

Preface

English for Guides, EN323, is an intermediate course in English for Specific Purposes. The text is composed of five parts--Listening Tasks, Reading Task, Speaking Task, Language Focus and Communicative Tasks. Students have to practice both with the tape and the teacher in class. Moreover, supplementary tasks are given so that students can practice at home to prepare for the exam. Suggested answers to the tasks are also provided.

I would like to express my sincere thanks and appreciation to Mr. Roger Welty, Mrs. Sheryl Finder and Dr. Francis Lindsey for their critical review and interest. I also wish to express my gratitude and appreciation to my family for their love, support, understanding and encouragement. In particular, a personal word of appreciation is extended to my brother, Suchai, for his ability to always bring a smile to my face.
